

Advanced Xerox Managed Print Network Onsite Support

Obtain the most from your technology with our unique structured approach to supporting your network print devices.

Optimize Your Office Print infrastructure with Xerox managed print services

Whether you have a machine on a standard service agreement with a fixed cost print facility or you have a network print device which you purchased and you buy the consumables separately to run the machine and manage it separately, this new unique service will not only provide you with proven running cost savings, but more importantly will cut down the time it takes to manage a network printer or a fleet of networked print devices within the business.

For a small investment you can obtain the following from this award winning multi – vendor service.

- Fixed cost printing, no consumable purchases, no annual maintenance agreements, no call out charges. One fixed cost per print covers everything, irrespective of the manufacture or make of model.
- Automated pre active fault finding facility The software detects issues before they arise and automatically sends an engineer on site to resolve the issue.
- Automated part replacement facility. The software analysis the parts in the machine and can detect when a part needs replacing, i.e. drum, fuser, rollers, maintenance kits, etc, maximising valuable uptime in the office work environment.
- Automated Toner and consumable supplies. The software detects when you are running low and automatically sends your supplies.
- Full IT network support, for all associated network print and scan issues.
- Automated meter reading, cutting down your time having to acquire the information.
- Management software, so that you can analyse the printing habits, as well as statistics pertaining to print volumes, parts and consumable replacement, uptime performance and other useful data to analyse the performance of the fleet of machines.

With this award winning advanced premium service you will be employing a true managed print service by the world's leading innovator and service provider in the industry. This premium service is designed to make it much easier for you to manage the servicing and support of printing equipment in the office. By using this service you will also obtain better cost controls, improve productivity within the working environment and more importantly have a greater peace of mind that you can concentrate on your core business activities.
